

Community Advisory Council (CAC) Members Needed

Do you have experiences with disability? The Eunice Kennedy Shriver Center is seeking new members for their Community Advisory Council (CAC). The Shriver Center supports research, education, and service aimed at improving the health and quality of life for persons with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD).

Members give us advice on the work we do and help us decide our next priorities.

Who are we seeking?

We welcome people with disabilities, their family members, and people whose work relates to disability. We are particularly seeking more people who have an intellectual or developmental disability, autism, and people from ethnic and racial minority groups.

The group meets 3-4 times a year on Zoom. Members are paid to attend.
